

10.01.2017 18:35 Uhr - Champions League - Gruppe B - noa

Young Slovenian winger arrives this summer: Kielce presents follower of Tobias Reichmann

At the end of the season Tobias Reichmann will leave KS Kielce. The actual winner of the VELUX EHF Champion League presented a follower for the German winger, who will move back to German Bundesliga to MT Melsungen. Blaz Janc signed a contract at the Polish top club, the national player of Slovenia signed a contract starting this summer and valid up to 2020.

Blaz Janc is one of the most promising players in Slovenia. Up to the end of the season the right winger plays for RK Celje, at the moment the 20-year old left-handed player is preparing with the Slovenian national team for the upcoming World Cup in France.

In the preliminary round of the World Cup Slovenia will face Angola, Iceland, Macedonia, Tunisia and Spain. Blaz Janc is one of the key player, despite his young age and only 14 international matches. The winger was also part of the team at the Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro - and was with 28 goals best scorer of his team. In total he scored already sixty goals for his country.

Blaz Janc has also experience in the VELUX EHF Champions League, in the past season he scored 67 goals for Celje and after eight matches in this season he already scored 48 goals. Bertus Servaas, president of Kielce, said: 'I am very happy, that we were able to win such a great player like Blaz Janc over to play for our team. The negotiations were not easy, but at the end both clubs found a conclusion', Servaas said on the club's website. googletag.cmd.push(function() { googletag.display('div-gpt-ad-1380148910362-0'); });